1 Introduction

York Arcade Holdings PLC (“YAH”) is committed to the highest standards of ethical behaviour and will encourage proper ethical conduct and sanction misconduct within the Company. An ethical culture based on standards and conduct, led by the shareholders, directors, and management, and followed by all employees of the professional service provider.

2 Conflicts of interest

Directors and employees of the professional service provider must avoid conflicts of interest. A conflict situation can arise when a director, or employees of the provider of professional services performs or has such interests that may make it difficult to perform his company work objectively and effectively. Conflicts of interests also arise when a member of their family receive improper personal benefits because of his position in the company.

The company shall have a policy prohibiting such conflicts of interest and providing a means for directors, or any employee of the provider of professional services to disclose them to the appropriate personnel and follow prescribed procedures to address such conflicts.

3 Fair and transparent procurement practices

An employee of the provider of professional services who is authorized to procure goods or services for YAH must ensure that the company’s policies and procedures are strictly followed and documented, in a fair and transparent manner.

4 Accurate accounting and record-keeping

The directors and employees of the professional service provider shall ensure that they follow all applicable laws, external accounting requirements and the company procedures for reporting financial and other business information. All employees of the professional service provider shall ensure that they manage their business records in accordance with the applicable records, management policy and procedures.

5 Corporate opportunities

YAH Directors and provider of professional services shall be prohibited from:

- A. taking opportunities that are discovered through the use of corporate property, information, or position;
- B. using corporate property, information, or position for personal gain; and
- C. competing with the company.

Directors and Professional service providers owe a duty to the company to advance its legitimate interests when the opportunity does arise.

6 Confidentiality

Directors and all employees of the professional service provider shall maintain the confidentiality of information entrusted to them by the Company or its customers, suppliers, and other stakeholders, except when this disclosure is authorised or legally mandated. Confidential information includes all non-public information that might be of use to competitors, or harmful to the Company or its customers, if disclosed.

7 Fair dealing

All directors and all employees of the professional service provider shall endeavour to deal fairly with the company's customers, suppliers, competitors, and employees of the professional service provider. None shall take unfair advantage of anyone through manipulation, concealment, abuse of privileged information, misrepresentation of material facts, or any other unfair – dealing practice.

8 Protection and proper use of company assets

All directors and all employees of the professional service provider shall protect the company's assets and ensure their efficient use. Theft, carelessness, and waste have a direct impact on the company's profitability. All company assets should be used for legitimate business purposes.

9 Compliance with laws, rules and regulations and insider trading

The company shall proactively promote compliance with laws, rules, and regulations, including insider trading laws. Insider trading is strictly prohibited. Directors and employees of the professional service provider who possess non-public, material information about YAH must not trade in the entity's listed securities or provide such information to others who may use it for trading.

10 Illegal or unethical behaviour

The company shall proactively promote ethical behaviour. Employees of the professional service provider should report violations of laws, rules, regulations or the code of business conduct and ethics, to the Chairman of the Nominations and Governance Committee. To encourage employees of the professional service provider to report such violations, the company must ensure that employees of the professional service provider know that the Company will not allow retaliation for reports made in good faith.

11 Entertainment and gifts

The directors and employees of the professional service provider must not solicit or demand any form of entertainment or gift from any person or organisation outside the company. The directors and employees of the professional service provider are not permitted to offer or accept business entertainment and gifts without prior approval, provided that the entertainment or gift in question is modest, appropriate, and consistent with reasonable business practice and permissible under all applicable laws.
